TBS Group and Marsh sign an agreement: focus on risk management

TBS Group and Marsh, global leader in insurance brokerage and risk management, signed an agreement whereby Marsh will support TBS Group in defining and implementing its international insurance programme, by singling out the best coverage solutions for single legal entities in the country where TBS Group's companies operate.

Moreover, Marsh will support TBS Group in the next three years by providing consulting services on risk management, with the purpose of further strengthening the internal function dedicated to internal control.

"Thanks to the strength of the Marsh network – explains Paolo Salotto, Chief Executive Officer of TBS Group – we will leverage a very high-profile partner operating in all countries where the Group is present. Marsh's know-how and integrated approach will enable to centralise choices bearing in mind of Group-level advantages, exercise a tighter control over corporate level insurance programmes, which will therefore optimise costs, simplify management processes and ensure the consistency and standardisation of internal Group processes".

This new agreement is part of the actions promoted by TBS in view of optimising its internal operational processes, which in turn are targeted at mitigating risk.

TBS Group S.p.a., listed on the AIM Italia, designs and manages outsourced clinical engineering services and designs and provides integrated ICT solutions.
